

Amendments with Version 18.1

1. Register brought up to date with alterations and additions to current infrastructure since last issue.
2. History of development of geographical interlockings revised in light of further research
3. Photographs included of geographical interlocking types to supplement revised text
4. Power frames section now follows interfaces (panels etc) section, with interlockings section moved to end of the text document